

Jennifer Brancazio

Director of Benefits
Magnit

Jennifer Brancazio is the Director of Benefits Operations at Magnit Global, where she leads benefits strategy, administration, and operational excellence in support of the company's global workforce solutions. With more than 20 years of experience in benefits operations, Jennifer has built extensive expertise in designing, implementing, and managing programs that support complex and large-scale employee and contingent workforce populations.

Based in Jupiter, Florida, Jennifer specializes in benefit program management, vendor administration, compliance, employee experience, and operational optimization. Her career has been defined by a commitment to delivering scalable benefits solutions that balance workforce needs with organizational objectives.

Jennifer earned her degree from Florida Atlantic University and is an active member of the International Employee Benefits Group, demonstrating her ongoing commitment to industry leadership and staying at the forefront of emerging trends and best practices in employee benefits.