Sandra J. Coleman , Consulting & System Integrator Alliances, Global Program Operations Manager , Siemens PLM software (a division of Siemens)

Sandy Coleman is the Global Alliance Program and Operations Manager for Siemens PLM Software. She brings over fifteen years of strategic consulting experience, currently specializing in strategic alliances.

Sandy is responsible for the development of strategic plans and programs for worldwide implementation and operation of alliance partner programs, ensuring operational alignment with the various stages of the sales and delivery cycle.

While currently specializing in strategic alliances, she has performed strategic planning engagements for client services, product support, quality assurance, technology selection and training. She has served clients in a broad range of industries including oil and gas, telecommunications, software, and other technology industries.

Prior to strategic consulting, Sandy performed in numerous capacities for Mobil Oil Corporation during her seventeen year tenure. Her numerous roles included application development, technology/infrastructure development, expansion and coordination of comprehensive employee development programs, and her final role was in strategic planning to leverage technology costs and benefits over multiple organizations within Mobil worldwide.

Sandy is on the Board of Directors of the Association of Strategic Alliance Professionals (A.S.A.P.) Texas Chapter. She holds a Bachelor of Science in Chemical Engineering from Texas A&M University and a Bachelor of Science in Information Technology from the University of Texas (Arlington).
