

Access to Experts

Microsoft Corporation

Microsoft and its employees participate in the public policy process in the United States in a variety of ways – from corporate government affairs programs designed to educate and influence elected officials on key public policy issues related to the company’s business, to individual political giving by employees through the Microsoft Political Action Committee, to membership in trade associations which help to advance our business objectives.

Microsoft’s participation is guided by a set of principles that govern its corporate policies and practices.

Read: Political Reporting Principles

Read Microsoft’s Anti-Corruption Policy for Representatives

You can view Microsoft’s complete approach to Political Engagement on the corporate website at:

<http://www.microsoft.com/about/corporatecitizenship/en-us/our-focus/operating-responsibly/governance-standards/political-engagement.aspx>

Committee Representative: Dan Bross, Senior Director, Corporate Citizenship

Committee Role: Co-Chair

Contact Carol Courter, Manager, Corporate Communications, +1 212 339 0232, courter@conferenceboard.org

The Conference Board is a global, independent business membership and research association working in the public interest. Our mission is unique: to provide the world’s leading organizations with the practical knowledge they need to improve their performance and better serve society. The Conference Board is a non-advocacy, not-for-profit entity holding 501 (c)(3) tax-exempt status in the United States of America.

