

Access to Experts

Ethan Cramer-Flood , China Program Specialist , China Center for Economics and Business , The Conference Board

Ethan Cramer-Flood is the China Program Specialist based in The Conference Board's New York City headquarters. He liaises with the Beijing-based China Center for Economics and Business and coordinates the two Conference Board China Councils in the US and Europe. Previously Cramer-Flood served as a Professor of International Relations at China Foreign Affairs University in Beijing, where he specialized in IR theory and US foreign policy, and conducted research on US-China relations.

Cramer-Flood holds an MS in Global Affairs from NYU, where his research focused on China's engagement with Africa, Chinese foreign policy in general, and global scenario-based planning. He has been published numerous times in academic and scholarly journals focusing on international affairs. Cramer-Flood also worked previously as a researcher for the Center for Responsive Politics in Washington, DC, and as a policy planner for the New York City Department of Health. He earned his BA in History from Haverford College.

Contact Carol Courter, Manager, Corporate Communications, +1 212 339 0232, courter@conferenceboard.org

The Conference Board is a global, independent business membership and research association working in the public interest. Our mission is unique: to provide the world's leading organizations with the practical knowledge they need to improve their performance and better serve society. The Conference Board is a non-advocacy, not-for-profit entity holding 501 (c)(3) tax-exempt status in the United States of America.

