

Mony Iyer

Senior Vice President and Chief Operating Officer
Banfield Pet Hospital

As the Chief Operating Officer of Banfield Pet Hospital, Mony Iyer oversees the company's field and operations teams across its more than 1,000 hospitals and headquarters. He provides strategic direction for future business growth with responsibility for new hospital openings, commercial, and real estate. As Banfield's COO, Mony prioritizes the support of the company's Associates above all else while ensuring the implementation of innovations that allow the company to exceed client expectations and provide more pets with the high-quality preventive care they deserve. Previous to his role at Banfield, Mony served as vice president, specialty health services at Walmart where he led optical, dental, and hearing services across the company, including more than 3,000 vision centers. Mony also held leadership roles at organizations including Luxottica, Hershey, Motorola, and The Boston Consulting Group, through which he developed deep expertise in developing new markets and business models in healthcare and consumer goods.
