

Bilyana Georgieva

Global Employee Relations and Health Manager
Nestlé

Bilyana Georgieva is the Global Head of Employee Relations and Employee Health at Nestlé. A lawyer by educational background, she started working for Nestlé in Bulgaria in February 2001 as a Legal Adviser and later on assumed other leadership roles such as Communications Manager and Head of Human Resources. In 2015 she moved to Nestlé Headquarters in Vevey, Switzerland as a Senior HR Business and in April 2018 took over her current role in the company. Passionate about people development, Bilyana is also a professional coach and supports her organization by coaching individuals and teams.