Robert J. Shiller

Professor of Economics

Yale University

Professor of Finance and Fellow

International Center for Finance, Yale School of Management

Robert Shiller has written on financial markets, financial innovation, behavioral economics, macroeconomics, real estate, statistical methods, and on public attitudes, opinions, and moral judgments regarding markets. His book Irrational Exuberance is an analysis and explication of speculative bubbles, with special reference to the stock market and real estate. His book Subprime Solution: How the Global Financial Crisis Happened and What to Do about It, published in September 2008 by Princeton University Press, offers an analysis of the housing and economic crisis and a plan of action against it. He co-authored, with George A. Akerlof, Animal Spirits: How Human Psychology Drives the Economy and Why It Matters for Global Capitalism published in March 2009 by Princeton University Press. His repeat-sales home price indices, developed originally with Karl E. Case, are now published as the Standard & Poor's/Case Shiller Home Price Indices. The Chicago Mercantile Exchange now maintains futures markets based on these indices.
