

Milt Ezzard

VP Global Benefits
Activision Blizzard

Milt Ezzard leads Global Benefits and Mobility for Activision Blizzard. He does not believe the most value comes from a one-size-fits all wellbeing or condition management strategy and has instead focused on implementing and measuring the effectiveness of a suite of diverse programs that engage employees and their families that suit individual preferences. As these programs are individually relevant, they support the motivation for change. The program his team has built has not only been cost efficient but serves to positively differentiate the organization and build loyalty from its employees.
