Senior Director and Head of Employer and Labor Partnerships
GRAIL

Ailene Bui, Senior Director and Head of Employer and Labor Partnerships at GRAIL. Her work has led to the launch of the GRAIL Galleri test as an employee and member benefit, helping people across the country screen for cancer earlier, before they become symptomatic. Ailene has over 20 years of experience in healthcare, health technology, and business development. Ailene earned her MPH from UCLA with a focus on health policy and management, and she is passionate about how the private sector can further public health goals.
