

Markus Schomer

Former Senior Economist, Finance, Risk and Strategy
The Conference Board

Markus Schomer was a Senior Economist with The Conference Board. He closely follows developments in the global economy and researches the structural drivers of global growth and competitiveness relating to productivity and trade. He develops and maintains several large-scale growth and productivity datasets with an international focus, relating to the aggregate economy and underlying industries. These include the Total Economy Database™, the International Comparisons of Manufacturing Productivity and Unit Labor Costs dataset, and the forward looking Global Economic Outlook.

Prior to joining The Conference Board, Mr Schomer worked at economist and investment strategist at financial services firms PineBridge Investments, AIG, and Commerzbank in New York, London, and Frankfurt.

Mr Schomer holds master's degrees in economics from the University of East Anglia in Norwich, England, and the University of Bonn in Germany.

Publications by Markus Schomer

Articles

- Economy Watch: Emerging Markets View \(May 2024\)
22 May, 2024
- Economy Watch: Emerging Markets View \(April 2024\)
16 April, 2024
- Economy Watch: Emerging Markets View \(March 2024\)
19 March, 2024
- Economy Watch: Emerging Markets View \(February 2024\)
22 February, 2024
- Economy Watch: Emerging Markets View \(December 2023\)
21 December, 2023
- Economy Watch: Emerging Markets View \(November 2023\)
22 November, 2023

Charts

- Preliminary November PMIs show no change in DM growth momentum
28 November, 2023

Reports

- Welcome to the Soft Landing: Implications for the Economy & Business
12 August, 2024
- Global Economic Outlook 2024 to 2036
18 October, 2023