

Access to Experts

Scott W. Campbell
University of Michigan

Scott W. Campbell is Associate Professor of Communication Studies and Pohns Endowed Professor of Telecommunications at the University of Michigan. His research examines the social implications of new media, with an emphasis on mobile telephony, social capital, and civic engagement. Several of his projects use a comparative approach to situate the role of mobile communication technology in the larger media landscape and across different societies.

Contact Carol Courter, Manager, Corporate Communications, +1 212 339 0232, courter@conferenceboard.org

The Conference Board is a global, independent business membership and research association working in the public interest. Our mission is unique: to provide the world's leading organizations with the practical knowledge they need to improve their performance and better serve society. The Conference Board is a non-advocacy, not-for-profit entity holding 501 (c)(3) tax-exempt status in the United States of America.

www.conference-board.org

Publications by Scott W. Campbell

Economics Program Working Paper Series

- Impact of ICT on Production of Goods and Services: Mobile Communication and Social Capital in Korea and the U.S.— How Usage Patterns Predict Social_C
12 July, 2011