

Parker Boyes

Healthcare Data Analyst
State Farm Insurance

Parker Boyes is a Healthcare Data Analyst at State Farm Insurance, specializing in optimizing healthcare benefits for employees and their families. With experience in service management and strategic process improvement, Parker leverages data insights to enhance value from healthcare vendor partnerships. Through user-centered design and effective communication, Parker aims to build a healthier and happier workforce by implementing solutions that maximize the benefits and well-being of State Farm employees.