

Amy Ostop

Head of North America Benefits
The Kraft Heinz Company

Amy Ostop has spent the last 30 years working in the employee benefits space, helping to improve the wellbeing experience for employees. Amy prides herself in looking for innovative solutions to help employees reach their best wellbeing potential. As the current Head of North America Benefits for The Kraft Heinz Company, Amy and her team have focused on providing meaningful mental health support for the workforce coming out of the pandemic. Prior to joining The Kraft Heinz Company, Amy was the Global Head of Benefits for Harley-Davidson Motor Company where she developed and lead the long-range strategy and implementation to align benefit programs with the needs of the organization including introducing full replacement High Deductible Health Plans to a union population with minimal noise and disruption.
