

Jeff Park

President
Waltz Health

Mr. Park is an experienced leader in driving growth and meaningful change in healthcare. His early career in Venture Capital, helped shape his focus on leveraging technology and innovation to drive growth and make positive change. His extensive board experience at both private, high-growth disruptive companies, and public traded enterprises makes him uniquely suited to foster innovation and scale in the highly regulated healthcare industry. Mr. Park has successfully raised billions of dollars in debt and equity to support over 14 acquisitions, and deliver meaningful financial results to investors. He has been recognized for leading innovation and change while delivering returns in excess of 65X during his time at CTRX:NASDAQ (now part of OptumRX). Mr. Park is currently the President at Waltz Health, a digital health company that brings technology solutions supporting over 8 million lives for health plans and payers. Waltz Health is re-wiring the way prescription drugs are paid for and its innovative tools are saving patients and payer millions of dollars every year.