

Ruth Gellert-Neale

Global HR Executive
JLL Technologies

Ruth is an experienced Human Resources Executive with a diversified portfolio of global experiences, advising C-suite leaders, as well as developing and growing teams to operationalize and deliver strategic HR initiatives. Throughout her career, Ruth has lived and worked in Asia and EMEA and has had global roles spanning the full breadth of the HR function.

Ruth builds partnerships across HR teams to deliver impact across the organization, she is a dynamic agent of change who innovates and develops effective people programs, building organizational capability to align people, business, and leadership objectives.

Ruth values the importance of relationships across HR teams and the business to deliver seamless value at all levels. A dynamic change agent, who innovates and develops effective people programs, building organizational capability to align people, business, and leadership objectives.

Ruth is Chief People Officer, APAC and EMEA for JLL Technologies, where she champions the use of AI within the HR function and has driven a culture of high performance. Ruth holds a Masters in Human Resources from the University of Hertfordshire, UK and is a Chartered Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development.