Michael Rosser is a Senior Member Development Executive at The Conference Board who leads recruitment efforts for our small and medium-sized businesses.

Since 2020, he has been instrumental in welcoming over 160 companies to The Conference Board network and placing over 250 C-Suite/executive leaders into confidential invitation-only peer networks. These groups help facilitate the sharing of knowledge, best practices, and innovative insights to improve personal and organizational performance.

Rosser holds a BS in Molecular Biology from the Georgia Institute of Technology. In addition, he was awarded Salesperson of the Year at The Conference Board 2021.
