

Michael Stiller

New Initiatives, Capital Access Platforms
Nasdaq

Mike Stiller is currently focused on New Initiatives for Nasdaq's Capital Access Platforms business, launching new products with an aim to accelerate business segment growth and expand buyer personas.

Mike previously launched Nasdaq's ESG Advisory practice and was responsible for the day-to-day management and strategic direction of the group. The practice consists of a global team that partners with public and private companies to initiate and advance ESG programs built for capital markets audiences. Engagements range from advising senior management and boards on environmental, social and governance (ESG) topics to guiding companies through ESG strategy building and designing ESG engagement strategies with long-term investors.

Mike has spent the last 11 years with Nasdaq in various capacities, including business development, strategy, and advising corporates on institutional investors and capital markets topics. Prior to joining Nasdaq, Mike spent time on the buy-side at a technology, media and telecom (TMT) hedge fund and a macroeconomic volatility arbitrage fund.
