Stevi Evans

Director, Benefits Design and Delivery

WeightWatchers

Joined the organization in August of 2018

Where she is responsible for global strategy and plan design of Insurance coverage and Wellbeing programs.

She previously held health plan and wellness positions with Goldman Sachs, Saint Vincent's Catholic Medical Centers and a TRICARE health plan, at EPIC Brokers and Consultants, and with 3 internal Benefits teams, including Time Warner Media.

Stevi entered college knowing she wanted to impact the healthcare system through lifestyle condition management. She has spent the last 19 years in Benefits and Wellbeing, with experience at a U.S. TRICARE health plan, a benefits brokerage and various in-house corporate Benefits teams. She brings a perspective of population health and strategic marketing into benefits design and delivery. She genuinely wants to change the health of the population to manage the risk of the plan. She enjoys being a fiduciary to the employer and an advocate for the engagement and health outcomes of plan participants.
