

Access to Experts

Aileen Zerrudo

Director of Communications, Corporate Social Responsibility
Clorox

Aileen Zerrudo is a director of corporate communications at The Clorox Company. She is responsible for the overall development, execution and management of internal and external strategies and communications on all areas of corporate responsibility, including environmental sustainability, product safety, and social cause programs. She also leads the company's voluntary product ingredient communication program, Ingredient Inside, which discloses ingredients used in the company's cleaning, disinfecting and laundry products in the U.S. and Canada.

Prior to her current role at Clorox, Aileen handled the PR launch of Green Works® Natural Cleaners, the market-leading brand in the natural cleaning homecare category. She and her team established the partnership with Sierra Club, with the objective to help mainstream natural cleaning. She has also worked on a number of other Clorox brands, including Hidden Valley®, Kingsford®, Glad® and Clorox® Bleach.

Prior to joining Clorox, Aileen was a vice president in the consumer marketing practice at Weber Shandwick Worldwide, a global marketing communications firm, working with such clients as American Airlines, The Bahamas Ministry of Tourism, The Hong Kong Tourism Organization, The Body Shop, Peet's Coffee & Tea and HP.

Contact Carol Courter, Manager, Corporate Communications, +1 212 339 0232, courter@conferenceboard.org

The Conference Board is a global, independent business membership and research association working in the public interest. Our mission is unique: to provide the world's leading organizations with the practical knowledge they need to improve their performance and better serve society. The Conference Board is a non-advocacy, not-for-profit entity holding 501 (c)(3) tax-exempt status in the United States of America.

www.conference-board.org