

David Simchi-Levi

Professor, Civil and Environmental Engineering and Engineering Systems
Massachusetts Institute of Technology

David Simchi-Levi is a professor of civil and environmental engineering and engineering systems at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the founder of LogicTools, a provider of software for optimizing supply chains that is now part of IBM. His latest book is Operations Rules: Delivering Customer Value through Flexible Operations.