

Access to Experts

Janet Etsch
Senior Vice President, U.S. Development

Janet Etsch is senior vice president of U.S. Development for the Conference Board, where she is responsible for the overall strategy and operation of the U.S. Membership program. She also coleads the Global Membership program. Etsch joined The Conference Board in 1997 as a director of associate service, working directly with executives of Fortune 500 member organizations.

Prior to joining The Conference Board, Etsch worked at AT&T, serving in a wide range of executive positions including Business Unit Head of International Consumer Long Distance, and Business Development Vice President. She holds a BS in business administration from Drexel University and an MS in nonprofit management at The New School University Robert J. Milano Graduate School of Management and Urban Policy. Etsch currently serves on the board of AIESEC, an international student exchange program.

Contact Carol Courter, Manager, Corporate Communications, +1 212 339 0232, courter@conferenceboard.org

The Conference Board is a global, independent business membership and research association working in the public interest. Our mission is unique: to provide the world's leading organizations with the practical knowledge they need to improve their performance and better serve society. The Conference Board is a non-advocacy, not-for-profit entity holding 501 (c)(3) tax-exempt status in the United States of America.

www.conference-board.org