

Gabriel Anthony

Senior Director and Head of Global Executive Talent Acquisition
Huron

Gabriel Anthony is the Senior Director and Head of Global Executive Talent Acquisition at Huron, based in the New York City metropolitan area. Having joined Huron in 2017, he leads senior-level talent acquisition efforts, supporting the firm's continued growth across multiple industry and business segments. With deep expertise in executive search, Gabriel is recognized for his ability to build trusted relationships with senior stakeholders while delivering high-impact talent solutions. He specializes in identifying and attracting leadership talent that drives transformation and long-term value for clients and the firm.

Gabriel brings over two decades of experience in executive recruiting, having previously held leadership roles at IBM and Deloitte, where he focused on Partner and Managing Director level hiring and global search initiatives. Earlier in his career, he led executive recruiting efforts at The Executive Source, building a strong foundation in executive search and talent advisory. He holds a degree from the University of South Wales.