Prof. Luis Simón

Director
Centre for Security, Diplomacy and Strategy

Prof. Luis Simón is Director of the Centre for Security, Diplomacy and Strategy (CSDS) at the Brussels School of Governance and a leading expert on European security, NATO, transatlantic relations, and great power competition. He is widely published on defense and international security and advises governments and international organizations on strategic affairs.