Maria Rosaria Bonifacio

Former VP and People Head
Nokia

Maria Rosaria Bonifacio is the former Vice President and People Head at Nokia, with more than 30 years of global HR leadership experience across the technology and telecommunications sectors. She is recognized for her expertise in organizational transformation, workforce strategy, leadership development, and talent management, having also held senior HR roles at Ericsson and served on corporate boards.