

Caitlin Ardrey

Senior Director, Fertility Program
Maven

Caitlin Ardrey is Senior Director of Maven's Fertility Program. In this role, Caitlin partners with Maven's Product, Clinical, and Operations teams to enhance Maven's Fertility and Family Building program for our clients and members.

Prior to joining Maven, Caitlin led Business Operations & Strategy at Modern Fertility, a reproductive health company making personalized fertility information more accessible through digitally-enabled at-home tests and tools.

Caitlin also previously worked as a management consultant, supporting companies across a variety of industry verticals on growth strategy, including healthcare. She holds a BA in Government from Dartmouth College.
