Jess Beckwith

VP of Client Success
Reperio Health

Jessica Beckwith is vice president of client success at Reperio Health, where she leads employer client onboarding, activation, and long-term partnership. She brings more than 15 years of experience across health systems, health technology startups, and consulting, including senior client engagement roles at Laudio and at Memora Health (acquired by Commure in 2024), plus earlier work at Fairview Health Services, Park Nicollet, and McKinsey & Company. Her thoughtful approach to understanding what success looks like for Reperio's clients and members drives measurable and meaningful results in complex healthcare environments.
