

Ben Neumann

Partner and Southeast Asia Leader
Vialto

Ben is the APAC Lead for Remote Work and our Southeast Asia team leader, where he works with organisations across the region in relation to enabling global work and the strategic alignment of talent and mobility.

With more than 25 years of experience, Ben has advised multinational clients on cross-border workforce solutions, remote work policies and implementation and cross border tax optimisation with particular speciality in Australia, US and Singaporean taxes. He has for many years also assisted foreign entertainers, sportspeople and the organisations that employ them in relation to the tax and immigration considerations of their international operations.