Miranda Zinoni is a Senior Member Engagement Associate with The Conference Board Human Capital Center, where she supports a portfolio of member companies. She works closely with members to understand their priorities and connect them with research insights and experts, events, and other engagement opportunities.

Prior to joining The Conference Board, Miranda was an intern and Program Analyst at the U.S. General Services Administration. She has also worked as a staffing intern for a New York City Councilmember and as a community representative for the New York Public Interest Research Group.

During college, Miranda supported alumni relations, wrote for the Political Review, and collaborated on research at the Institute for Global Politics. She received her Bachelor of Arts in Political Science and Master of International Affairs from Columbia University.
