

Andrew Lindsay

Principal, U.S. Transaction Strategy Consumer, Retail, & Hospitality Industry Leader

KPMG US

ajlindsay@KPMG.com

Andrew Lindsay is a Principal in KPMG's U.S. Transaction Strategy and Industry Leader for Consumer, Retail, & Hospitality. Andrew helps corporate and private equity-backed companies create value through mergers, acquisitions, divestitures, joint ventures, and transformation initiatives. He leads a team of more than 150 professionals focused on transaction execution, value creation, and enterprise performance improvement.

Andrew advises C-suite executives and investors across the full transaction lifecycle, from strategy and diligence through execution and value capture. His experience includes operating model design, synergy realization, restructuring, leveraged buyouts, commercial operations stand-up, and growth initiatives across the Americas, Europe, and Asia.

Recognized for building and developing high-performing teams, Andrew helps organizations translate strategic objectives into measurable business outcomes.