

Ryan McManus

President
NACD New York Chapter

Ryan McManus serves on the boards of public, private, startup, and nonprofit organizations. He advises boards and senior executives on AI, emerging technology, strategy, and governance. Ryan is the founding chair of the National Association of Corporate Directors' (NACD) Technology and Advisory Board, President of the NACD New York Chapter, and recognized as one of the top 100 Most Influential Corporate Directors in the United States by the NACD.