

Jake Cohen

Senior Engineer, Digital Innovation
KPMG US

Jake Cohen is a leader on the KPMG US Digital Enablement team, where he helps organizations turn AI from a promising technology into a practical business capability. He works with executives, business teams and practitioners to drive AI adoption through workforce enablement, executive learning and innovative programs. A former educator turned AI enablement leader, Jake is passionate about helping people build the skills and confidence needed to succeed in an AI-powered workplace.