

Dr. Meisha-ann Martin

VP, People Research
Workhuman

Meisha-ann has a PhD in Industrial/Organizational Psychology and has spent almost twenty years as a researcher and practitioner. Dr. Martin is considered a People Analytics/Employee Experience expert as she has led these efforts in companies like Flex, JetBlue and Raymond James Financial and also led the Talent Management function at ServiceMaster. In her current role as VP, People Research at Workhuman, Meisha-ann is responsible for employee experience survey research and is focused on proving the impact of positive work experiences for individuals and organizations. She is considered a thought leader in this space and regularly speaks on topics like recognition, wellness, inclusion and psychological safety. She is a regular contributor to articles that have appeared in Forbes, Fortune, Bloomberg, NPR, HR Executive, HR Dive and Benefits Pro and has been recognized by HR Executive as one of the Top 100 HR Tech Influencers.