

Nicole Arneaud

Founder & CEO
AI in the City Solutions LLC

Nicole Arneaud is a Certified AI Adoption Strategist and Founder and CEO of AI in the City Solutions LLC. Her background spans Federal government operations, Corporate compliance, Program/ Event coordination, and media production.

Through AI in the City, Nicole helps AI companies increase their visibility by creating event experiences and workshops around their brands. She brings their technology directly to relevant audiences, creating opportunities for people to experience their products, understand their value, and build meaningful connections. Her programming connects professionals, students, founders, and AI companies, with collaborators including Berkeley College, Grow with Google, and technology practitioners.

Having transitioned from Federal employment into AI entrepreneurship, Nicole brings a firsthand perspective on career reinvention, transferable skills, and continuous learning. She advocates for employers to recognize adaptability, initiative, and demonstrated capability when developing the next generation of talent.
