

Margot Shoshan

Global Head of Marketing & Communications, Managing Director
Moelis & Company

Margot Shoshan is a Managing Director and Global Head of Marketing and Communications at Moelis & Company. Margot is responsible for directing and executing the strategic vision of the function through public relations, marketing, and executive and corporate communications. She has over 20 years of experience in the financial services industry, serving as a strategic business partner and senior adviser across operational functions, including marketing and communications, investor relations, and human capital management.

Prior to joining Moelis & Company, Margot was a Senior Auditor at Deloitte. She holds a B.B.A. with Honors in Accounting from Emory University and is a Certified Public Accountant in the state of Georgia.