

Jessica Olsen

Manager, Global Wellbeing & Employee Engagement
Gilead Sciences

Jessica Olsen is a benefits and wellbeing leader at Gilead Sciences with experience developing global wellbeing strategies, employee engagement campaigns, and health-focused programs. In her role as Manager of Benefits, she brings together employee insights, cross-functional partners, and innovative solutions to create programs that are practical, inclusive, and easy to navigate. Jessica is particularly interested in how organizations can move beyond offering resources to building experiences that meaningfully improve employee wellbeing.
