Dana Foote
Audit Partner
KPMG

Dana is an Audit Partner in KPMG's National office in New York City, NY. She has 17 years of experience performing financial statement audit services and providing technical accounting support to audit engagement teams.

Professional and Industry Experience

Dana currently serves in KPMG's Department of Professional Practice (the National Office), where her responsibilities include assisting audit engagement teams in the resolution of complex accounting issues, writing interpretive guidance in KPMG publications, and instructing technical accounting topics at training events and webcasts for KPMG professionals and external participants. She also has served as KPMG's representative on a Center for Audit Quality task force for a proposed auditing standard.

Prior to joining the National Office in 2010, Dana provided professional audit services to publicly-held and multi-national SEC registrants as well as private companies. Her audit experience includes complex accounting and auditing issues such as revenue recognition, stock-based compensation, business combinations, carve-out audits, and has been involved in IPOs and other SEC transactions.
