

Access to Experts

Michael Ball

Professor of Urban and Property Economics
Henley Business School at the University of Reading m.ball@henley.reading.ac.uk

Michael Ball, Professor of Urban and Property Economics in Henley Business School at the University of Reading, conducts research on housing studies, urban economics, commercial property investment, real estate markets, urban regeneration, land-use planning, urban history and construction economics. He is the co-author of a textbook entitled Economics of Commercial Property Markets and also has written the annual RICS European Housing Review.

Contact Carol Courter, Manager, Corporate Communications, +1 212 339 0232, courter@conferenceboard.org

The Conference Board is a global, independent business membership and research association working in the public interest. Our mission is unique: to provide the world's leading organizations with the practical knowledge they need to improve their performance and better serve society. The Conference Board is a non-advocacy, not-for-profit entity holding 501 (c)(3) tax-exempt status in the United States of America.

www.conference-board.org