

Access to Experts

Mark Wafer
Franchise Owner
Tim Hortons

Mark Wafer is the owner of six Tim Hortons restaurants located in Toronto, Ontario. In the past 18 years Mark and his wife Valarie have hired 85 people with disabilities in meaningful and competitively paid positions and currently employ 36 people with disabilities in all aspects of the business including entry level positions, logistics, customer service, production, administration and management.

Mark is not only a leading advocate for people with disabilities in the area of employment but also the lead business champion on the rotary at work initiative, a member of Ontario's Lieutenant Governors accessibility team, an inaugural inductee into Ontario's Champions league and one of four members of the Federal governments panel on opportunities for people with disabilities in the workforce.

Mark lives with his wife Valarie in Ashburn, Ontario. In his spare time, Mark is a motorsports enthusiast, a race car driver and a former amateur race car champion.

Contact Carol Courter, Manager, Corporate Communications, +1 212 339 0232, courter@conferenceboard.org

The Conference Board is a global, independent business membership and research association working in the public interest. Our mission is unique: to provide the world's leading organizations with the practical knowledge they need to improve their performance and better serve society. The Conference Board is a non-advocacy, not-for-profit entity holding 501 (c)(3) tax-exempt status in the United States of America.

www.conference-board.org