

Access to Experts

Douglas Rousso

Senior Vice President and Chief Technology Officer
CBS Corporation

Doug Rousso is the Chief Technology Officer of CBS Corporation. He joined the company in April, 2011.

Rousso is a thought leader in enterprise architecture and frequent public speaker and has comprehensive information technology experience and a track record of creative and strategic execution in areas such as infrastructure, engineering, application development and operations. His resume includes work with media companies, global Fortune 500 firms and start-ups.

Prior to joining CBS, Rousso served as Senior Vice President and Chief Technology Officer of Global Information Services for CA Technologies. Previously, he worked at Warner Bros. Entertainment as Vice President and Chief Architect/ Management Information Services and Group Information Officer for Domestic Television Distribution. Prior to that, he was Managing Director, Technical and Network Services for NBC. He has also served as Chief Information Officer for Asylum Communications; Managing Director, IT Operations for Dreamworks, S.K.G.; and Director, Business and Technical Services for MCA/ Universal Studios. He also founded and served as president of Pacific Administrators, Inc.

Rousso holds both a Master's and Bachelor's degree from the University of Southern California.

Contact Carol Courter, Manager, Corporate Communications, +1 212 339 0232, courter@conferenceboard.org

The Conference Board is a global, independent business membership and research association working in the public interest. Our mission is unique: to provide the world's leading organizations with the practical knowledge they need to improve their performance and better serve society. The Conference Board is a non-advocacy, not-for-profit entity holding 501 (c)(3) tax-exempt status in the United States of America.