Elizabeth Rust

The Conference Board

Elizabeth Rust is an intern with the Conference Board Europe, where she works with the Labor Markets research team on a project for forecasting wage growth across the OECD. She is currently pursuing her master's degree in international economics and international relations at the Johns Hopkins University School of Advanced International Studies, with a concentration in European studies. Her research interests include the European economy, labor markets, political economy, and transatlantic relations. Rust has previously worked as a research assistant with the Bologna Institute for Policy Research and the Club de Madrid, where she researched Myanmar's economic and political reforms post-2010. She holds a B.A. magna cum laude from Cornell University.
