

Stian Westlake

Senior Fellow
Nesta

Stian Westlake is a senior fellow at Nesta, the UK's national foundation for innovation. His research interests included the measurement of innovation and its effects on productivity, the role of high-growth businesses in the economy, financial innovation, and how government policy should respond to technological change