Beth Mooney has been chairman and CEO of KeyCorp since May 1, 2011. In 2010, she was named president and became a member of KeyCorp’s board of directors.

Mooney, who joined KeyCorp in April 2006 as vice chair, Key Community Bank, has over 35 years of experience in retail banking, commercial lending, and real estate financing. Prior to KeyCorp, Mooney was senior executive vice president and chief financial officer for Alabama-based AmSouth Bancorporation (now Regions Financial Corporation), where she ran its banking operations in Tennessee and Northern Louisiana. Her banking career included roles of increasing responsibility at Bank One Corporation; Citicorp Real Estate, Inc.; Hall Financial Group; and Republic Bank of Texas/First Republic. At Bank One, she served as regional president in Akron and Dayton, and then as president of Bank One Ohio, managing major markets throughout the state.

Mooney graduated from the University of Texas in 1977 and earned her Master of Business Administration degree from Southern Methodist University in 1983, where she was selected as a 2007–2008 Distinguished Alumni of the Cox School of Business. She has been recognized by Forbes Magazine as one of “The World’s 100 Most Powerful Women” and by Fortune Magazine as one of the “Top 50 Most Powerful Women in Business.” Mooney was named the “#1 Most Powerful Woman in Banking” for three years before “retiring” to the Hall of Fame to make way for other winners. Mooney was the recipient of the Corporate Responsibility Award from the Foreign Policy Association for leading KeyBank’s civic leadership and community outreach. Mooney received the 2017 Women of Note Legacy Award from the Cleveland Foundation for her outstanding business, civic, and philanthropic leadership in Greater Cleveland. Also, in 2017, she was named American Banker’s “Banker of the Year.”

Mooney is a member of AT&T’s board of directors, serving on its corporate development and finance committee and the corporate governance and nominating committee. She is also a member of the Federal Advisory Council and The Business Council. Mooney is on the Catalyst board of directors, serving on the investment committee. Additionally, she is on the board of directors of The Bank Policy Institute and serves as chair of the BITSS Committee. She is a member of the supervisory board of The Clearing House, the Committee of 200, and board of trustees of The Conference Board. Money is also a trustee and chair of several foundations and nonprofits in the greater Cleveland area.