LEAPFROG, The New Revolution for Women Entrepreneurs

Nathalie Molina Niño is an investor and tech globalization veteran focused on high-growth businesses that benefit women and the planet. She is the author of LEAPFROG, The New Revolution for Women Entrepreneurs (Penguin Random House, Tarcher Perigee) and a serial entrepreneur. Nathalie launched her first tech startup at the age of twenty and is the co-founder of Entrepreneurs@Athena at the Athena Center for Leadership Studies of Barnard College at Columbia University, where she continues to lecture and advise.

Before her career in academia and impact investing, she spent 15 years advising organizations like Disney, Microsoft, MTV, Mattel, and the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation. During that time she co-led the launch and growth of a multinational business with Lionbridge (NASDAQ: LIOX) into a $100M operation in 30+ countries.

Nathalie serves as a Venture Partner at Connectivity Capital Partners and advises the WOCstar Fund, FullCycle, and WestRiver Group. She also serves on the advisory board of WENYC and Vote, Run, Lead, and persistently connects entrepreneurship and the mission of getting more women into elected office. Prior to founding her last venture, BRAVA Investments, Nathalie launched Nely Galán’s New York Times bestselling book and online education venture, Self-Made, and stepped in as CRO of PowerToFly, the fastest growing hiring platform for women in tech and beyond.
