

Kelly Lynch

Brand and Content Specialist
Realized Worth

Kelly has been with Realized Worth since 2015 and leads project management, as well as all things branding and content. Kelly brings several years of experience in corporate communications, community relations and volunteer management to her role, and specializes in project and program management.

Kelly is an artist, and pursues art to explore social issues related to feminism and mental health.