

Anne Fischer

Senior Director, Data Science and Methods
Springbuk

With over 20 years of experience, Anne Fischer has held multiple leadership roles in the Healthcare Information Technology industry and garnered extensive experience in healthcare analytics. Before joining Springbuk, Anne led the transition of a former Truven Analytics team of data scientists, business analysts, and clinicians to create the new Watson Health Value-Based Care Emerging Analytics team.

In the winter of 2019, Anne joined the Springbuk Health Intelligence team as the Senior Director of Data Science and Methods to help develop analytic methodologies and drive value to healthcare payers and providers.