

Alan Oshiki

Executive Vice President
Abernathy MacGregor

Alan Oshiki advises on event-driven stakeholder engagement for initial public offerings (IPOs), mergers and acquisitions, crises, litigation, bankruptcy, financial distress and restructuring, as well as innovative, high-impact approaches to ongoing communications with business audiences.

Alan helps management teams and boards of directors engage their investors, customers, employees and other important stakeholders to attract capital and deal flow, generate revenue, and build loyalty and support. He works with some of the world's largest corporations, as well as middle-market companies, start-ups, private equity sponsors, professional services firms and industry associations.

Industries in which he has direct experience include mining, energy/utilities/oil & gas, manufacturing and logistics, financial services, alternative asset management, business services, real estate, and telecommunications.

Prior to joining Abernathy MacGregor in 2013, Alan held senior executive positions at Taylor Rafferty, Broadgate Consultants, Frontier Communications, Christensen & Associates, Unisource Energy and BHP/Magma Copper Company. His past clients have included Chevron Corporation, General Electric, independent directors of the board of Cablevision Systems Corporation, Joy Global Inc., Dresser-Rand Group, Inc., Shurgard Storage Centers Inc., KBW, Inc., Coeur Mining, Inc., Simmons Bedding Corporation, Maguire Properties, Inc., The Association of the Luxembourg Fund Industry and several middle-market private equity sponsors.