Mike Robinson
CEO
Canopy Health

Mike leads an innovative San Francisco Bay Area health care alliance whose focus is on improving quality and delivering affordable health care while supporting the alliance partners. Mike has health care experience through his health plan background, health system governance work and as a cancer survivor. Mike and the Canopy Health team collaborate with select health plan partners who share the company's vision of offering high-value healthcare products, with joint accountability for design, cost, quality, and an exceptional member experience.
