Yusuf Sherwani is the CEO and Co-Founder of Quit Genius, the world's first digital clinic for multiple addictions. Together with his colleagues Maroof Ahmed and Sarim Siddiqui, Dr. Sherwani developed a vision for the technology driven addiction treatment platform. Today the company has helped over 750,000 people improve their lives and quit their addictions.

A medical doctor by training and a technology enthusiast at heart, Yusuf is seen as an innovator operating at the intersection of healthcare, technology and design. With a medical degree from Imperial College London, Yusuf has co-authored 12 peer-reviewed studies on behavioral health and substance addictions. He was featured in Forbes' 30 Under 30 list, 2018 as well as Fast Company's 100 Most Creative People in Business.
