

Window On Oil Prices: Up to $100 or Back to $40

September 2018

Some of the critical questions and issues we will be answering today

1. What are the short-term pressure points on the oil price. Where will the price be heading etween now and the end of the year?
2. The role of the US (fracking, economy, policy and politics)
3. The role of the rest of the world: big producers and big users
4. Looking into the future: what will determine the future of oil?
